Mensaje de los Presidentes

Estamos comenzando una nueva colaboración formal en el campo CTS. El primer Congreso de ESOCITE se celebró en Buenos Aires en 1995. La primera reunión de la 4S tuvo lugar en la Universidad de Cornell, diecinueve años antes. Por cierto, ya antes de 1995, los investigadores de la ciencia y la tecnología de América Latina habían establecido una multiplicidad de relaciones informales con académicos de fuera de la Región, tanto dentro como fuera de la 4S. La fundación del "movimiento ESOCITE" tuvo, al menos, dos consecuencias importantes: reunió a investigadores de América Latina que trabajan en los temas CTS y expandió de manera significativa las relaciones con los colegas de otras latitudes. No fue sino hasta hace cuatro años, sin embargo, cuando los esfuerzos para formalizar una colaboración entre ESOCITE y 4S comenzaron en serio.

En (el otoño del Norte y la primavera del Sur de) 2010, la Directiva de ESOCITE y el Consejo de 4S acordaron celebrar un congreso conjunto en el año 2014. Las principales motivaciones para hacer una reunión conjunta incluyeron contribuir a que sus miembros puedan ampliar su comprensión acerca del significado de CTS en los contextos regionales y locales donde trabajan los investigadores de ambas organizaciones, y el alcance que podrían tener, si la densidad de las relaciones académicas aumentara aún más en el futuro. ¿Podrá la interacción cara a cara y la construcción de nuevas relaciones personales a través de espacios organizativos y geográficos ayudar a que los miembros de 4S y de ESOCITE desarrollen mejor, más rápidamente y con mayor eficacia las imágenes del Sur y del Norte, en nuevas versiones de CTS en el/los Sur(es) y Norte(s)?

En junio de 2011 se realizó un taller en Buenos Aires, del que participaron más de veinte representantes de ESOCITE y algunos miembros de 4S activos en su Red Latinoamericana (apoyados por un subsidio de la 4S a las "Nuevas Iniciativas"). Un resultado clave de dicho taller fue la recomendación de designar a Buenos Aires como la ciudad anfitriona para la reunión de 2014.

La planificación informal de este congreso comenzó en la reunión de 2012 de 4S/EASST en Copenhague cuando dos de nosotros nos pasamos la tarde trabajando sobre los resultados del taller, para delinear los objetivos clave y otras cuestiones relevantes. Nos pusimos rápidamente de acuerdo sobre las principales características -tal vez ayudados por un buen vino- aunque éramos muy conscientes de que la planificación y puesta en marcha de un encuentro conjunto trilingüe generaría complejidades sin precedentes para ambas sociedades. No tuvimos ninguna duda de que los resultados valían la pena el trabajo a emprender. ESOCITE ya había pedido a Pablo que fuera uno de los organizadores. Poco después de la reunión de Copenhague, Leandro Rodríguez Medina (UDLAP) aceptó la petición de Gary para servir como organizador por parte de 4S.

La planificación informal continuó en noviembre de 2012, cuando Wes Shrum (LSU) pasó diez días de Buenos Aires para identificar y asegurar los compromisos de dos hoteles para el congreso (tuvo que emitir juicios que incluyeron, suponemos, degustar ampliamente la carne local). Le agradecemos a Wes por su ayuda, que fue indispensable para llevar esto a buen término. En julio de 2013, Gary asistió a la escuela doctoral de ESOCITE y se reunió con miembros de su Directiva en Florianópolis, Brasil, tras lo cual visitó el lugar del Congreso en Buenos Aires. En el evento de 2013 de la 4S en San Diego, Pablo presentó el congreso conjunto, junto con algunas de las características de ESOCITE y de su historia, e invitó formalmente a los participantes de 4S a ir a Buenos Aires. La planificación formal continuó con el primer llamado a trabajos, en diciembre. Cada uno de los organizadores ahora tiene en sus archivos más de 2500 mensajes de correo electrónico.

Junto con Leandro, hemos intentado abordar tanto los problemas y oportunidades que enfrentan los investigadores en los estudios de ciencia y tecnología de hoy con la doble pregunta: "CTS: ¿Para qué? ¿Para quién?". En la sesión plenaria de apertura, que lleva el subtítulo "Hacer CTS", 24 investigadores (12 de cada sociedad) compartirán el modo de abordar y de responder a estas preguntas. Las presentaciones seguramente serán a la vez potentes y concisas: cada presentador tiene exactamente tres minutos.

En un congreso CTS se trata de compartir con otros colegas el trabajo de uno, en este campo interdisciplinario de estudios sobre la ciencia y la tecnología.

También se trata de aprender, y de volver a casa con una red internacional de colegas que sea tanto más densa y más extensa que la que uno tenía antes. Por encima de todo, estamos construyendo nuestro propio campo o, como nos atrevemos a decir, la disciplina misma, que impulsa nuestras pasiones y a la que le hemos dedicado nuestras carreras. Este congreso, como todos los encuentros de investigadores de CTS, se refiere en última instancia a la construcción de CTS.

Por cierto, habrá tango, tanto a través de clases en la tarde del miércoles y en un show durante el banquete. Fútbol, en cambio, no habrá, puesto que la Copa del Mundo ya ha terminado, aunque los vestigios de la celebración por el segundo puesto se mantienen aquí. Sí, la carne de gran calidad está en todas partes (aunque, como Gary puede demostrar, hay incluso algunas opciones vegetarianas). Sí, se puede ver el balcón donde Madonna/Evita cantó "No llores por mí, Argentina". Más allá de esto, y sin perderse ninguna de las sesiones del congreso, los invitamos a explorar algunos de los misterios de esta compleja ciudad.

En el espíritu de aventura académica compartida que ha guiado a todos los organizadores hasta hoy, ¡les damos la bienvenida a la primera reunión conjunta de la Sociedad Latinoamericana de Estudios Sociales de la Ciencia y la Tecnología y de la Society for Social Studies of Science!

Traigan sus herramientas y materiales de construcción.

Presidents' Message

A new formal collaboration in STS begins now. The first ESOCITE congress was held in Buenos Aires in 1995. The first 4S meeting had taken place at Cornell University nineteen years earlier. Prior to 1995, Latin American scholars in science and technology studies, both inside and outside of 4S, had established a multiplicity of informal relations with non-Latin American scholars. Founding the 'ESOCITE movement' had at least two important consequences: it brought together Latin American scholars working on STS issues and significantly expanded relations with colleagues working in other latitudes. Not until four years ago, however, did efforts to formalize a collaboration between ESOCITE and 4S begin in earnest.

In (northern fall southern spring) 2010, the ESOCITE Board and 4S Council each agreed to hold a joint meeting/congress in 2014. The main motivations for meeting jointly included helping members expand their understanding of what STS has meant in the regional and local contexts spanned by scholars in the two organizations, and what it might mean in the future if the density of scholarly relations increased further. Would interacting face-to-face and building new personal ties across organizational and geographical spaces help 4S and ESOCITE members better, more quickly, and more effectively multiply images of South and North in STS into new versions of STS south(s) and north(s)?

A pre-planning workshop took place in Buenos Aires in June 2011. The more than twenty participants included ESOCITE representatives and 4S members active in its Latin American Network (supported by a 4S New Initiatives grant). A key outcome was to recommend Buenos Aires as the host city for the 2014 gathering.

Informal planning for this meeting/congress began at the 2012 4S/EASST Copenhagen meeting when the two of us spent an afternoon building on workshop outcomes to outline key objectives and likely issues. We rapidly agreed on the principal features—perhaps the wine helped—even though we were acutely aware that planning and pulling off a joint, trilingual meeting would generate unprecedented complexities for both societies. We had no doubts that the outcomes would be worth the work. ESOCITE had already asked Pablo to serve as its co-program chair. Shortly after the Copenhagen meeting, Leandro Rodríguez-Medina (UDLAP) accepted Gary's request to serve as co-program chair for 4S.

Informal planning continued through November 2012, when Wes Shrum (LSU) spent ten days in Buenos Aires identifying and securing commitments from two hotels to co-host the meeting/congress (making judgments that included, we understand, amply testing the local beef). Thanks to Wes for helping to bring this to fruition. In July 2013, Gary attended the ESOCITE doctoral school and met with board members in Florianopolis, Brazil, after which he visited the meeting site. At the 2013 4S meeting in San Diego, Pablo presented the joint meeting, along with some features of ESOCITE and its history, and formally invited 4S participants to come to Buenos Aires. Formal planning continued with the first call for submissions in December. Each of the organizers now has on file something more than 2,500 e-mail messages.

Along with Leandro, the two of us have attempted to capture both the issues and opportunities confronting scholars in science and technology studies today with the twin questions: "What is STS for? What are STS scholars for?" At the Opening Plenary, which carries the subtitle "Making and Doing in STS," 24 scholars (12 from each society) will share how they address and respond to these questions. The presentations will surely be both powerful and concise: each presenter has exactly three minutes.

An STS meeting/congress is about sharing with fellow scholars one's work in interdisciplinary science and technology studies. It is also about learning, and returning home with an international network of colleagues that is both denser and more extensive than one had at departure. Above all, it is about further building the field or, dare we say, the discipline that compels our passions and to which we are devoting our careers. This meeting/congress, like all gatherings of STS scholars, is fundamentally about building STS.

Yes, there will be tango, both via lessons on Wednesday evening and at the tango show during the banquet. No, World Cup football is over—although vestiges of celebration by the runner-up remain. Yes, high-quality beef is everywhere (although, Gary will attest, vegetarian options can be found). Yes, you can see the balcony where Madonna/Evita sang "Don't Cry for Me, Argentina." Beyond these, and without missing any meeting sessions, do explore some of the mysteries of this complex city.

In the spirit of shared scholarly adventure that has guided all the organizers to date, we welcome you to the first joint meeting of the Sociedad Latinoamericana de Estudios Sociales de la Ciencia y la Tecnología and the Society for Social Studies of Science!

Bring your tools and building materials.

Mensagem dos Presidentes

Estamos começando uma nova colaboração formal no campo STS. O primeiro Congresso da ESOCITE foi realizado em Buenos Aires em 1995. A primeira reunião da 4S teve lugar na Universidade de Cornell, 19 anos antes. Na verdade, mesmo antes de 1995, os pesquisadores em ciência e tecnologia na América Latina tinham estabelecido uma infinidade de relações informais com os acadêmicos de fora da Região, dentro e fora da 4S. A fundação do "movimento ESOCITE" tinha pelo menos duas consequências importantes: reuniu pesquisadores da América Latina que trabalhavam em questões de STS e expandiu significativamente as relações com colegas de outras latitudes. No entanto, só há quatro anos é que os esforços para formalizar uma parceria entre a ESOCITE e a 4S começaram seriamente.

Em 2010 (no outono do Norte e na primavera do Sul), a Diretiva da ESOCITE e o Conselho da 4S concordaram em realizar um congresso conjunto, em 2014. As principais razões para uma reunião conjunta incluíram ajudar os seus membros a aprofundar a sua análise do significado de CTS nos contextos regionais e locais onde os pesquisadores das duas organizações trabalham, e o seu alcance futuro, se a densidade de relações académicas se expandisse ainda mais. Será que a interação 'cara a cara' e a construção de novas relações pessoais nos diversos espaços organizacionais e geográficos poderá ajudar os membros da 4S e da ESOCITE a melhor desenvolver, de forma mais rápida e com maior eficácia as múltiplas imagens do Sul e do Norte em novas versões de CTS nos Sul(s) e nos Norte(s)?

Em junho de 2011 teve lugar em Buenos Aires um workshop, do qual participaram mais de vinte representantes da ESOCITE e alguns membros ativos da Rede Latino-Americana da 4S (com o apoio da 4S para as "Novas Iniciativas"). Um dos principais resultados do workshop foi a recomendação de indicar Buenos Aires para a organização da reunião de 2014.

O planeamento informal desta conferência começou na reunião da 4S/EASST de 2012, em Copenhague, quando passámos os dois a tarde a trabalhar nos resultados do workshop para delinear os objetivos-chave e outras questões relevantes. Concordámos rapidamente sobre as principais questões - possivelmente ajudados por um bom vinho - apesar de estarmos bem conscientes de que o planeamento e implementação de uma reunião conjunta trilingue iria criar complexidades sem precedentes para as duas sociedades. Não tivemos nenhuma dúvida de que os resultados mostravam valer a pena o trabalho a ser realizado. A ESOCITE já tinha pedido a Pablo que fosse um dos organizadores. Após a reunião de Copenhague, Leandro Rodríguez Medina (UDLAP) aceitou o pedido de Gary para servir como organizador pela 4S.

O planeamento Informal continuou em novembro de 2012, quando Wes Shrum (LSU) passou dez dias em Buenos Aires para identificar e garantir os compromissos de dois hotéis para o Congresso (um processo de decisão que, supostamente, terá envolvido extensa degustação da carne local). Ficamos agradecidos com Wes, cuja ajuda foi indispensável para alcançar os objetivos. Em julho de 2013, Gary participou na escola doutoral da ESOCITE e reuniu-se com membros da sua Diretiva em Florianópolis, Brasil, e visitou depois o local do Congresso, em Buenos Aires. No evento de 2013 da 4S em San Diego, Pablo apresentou o congresso conjunto, juntamente com algumas das características de ESOCITE e da sua história, e convidou formalmente os participantes da 4S para ir a Buenos Aires. O planeamento formal continuou com a primeira chamada de trabalhos em dezembro. Cada um dos organizadores tem agora em arquivo mais de 2500 e-mails.

Junto com Leandro, tentámos abordar tanto os problemas como as oportunidades que os pesquisadores em estudos de ciência e tecnologia enfrentam hoje com a dupla pergunta: "CTS: Para quê? Para quem?". Na sessão plenária de abertura, que tem como subtítulo "Fazer CTS", 24 pesquisadores (12 de cada sociedade) irão partilhar formas de abordar e responder a estas perguntas. As apresentações serão certamente tão poderosas quanto concisas: cada apresentador tem exatamente três minutos.

Num congresso CTS trata-se de partilhar com os colegas o próprio trabalho, neste campo interdisciplinar de pesquisa sobre a ciência e a tecnologia. Trata-se também de uma ocasião de aprendizagem, regressando a casa com uma rede internacional de colegas que é mais densa e mais extensa do que tinha antes. Acima de tudo, estamos construindo o nosso próprio campo ou, por que não dizê-lo, a própria disciplina, que impulsiona as nossas paixões e à qual temos dedicado as nossas carreiras. Nesta conferência, como em todas as reuniões de pesquisadores CTS, trata-se essencialmente da construção de CTS.

Claro, haverá tango, quer através de aulas, na quarta-feira à tarde, como de um show no jantar do congresso. Futebol não, já que a Copa do Mundo terminou, mas há ainda os restos da festa do vice-campeão. Sim, carne de qualidade é em todo o lado (embora, como o Gary pode comprovar, existem opções vegetarianas). Sim, pode ver a varanda onde Madonna/Evita cantou "Não chores por mim, Argentina". Além disso, sem perder nenhuma das sessões do congresso, convidamo-lo/la a explorar alguns dos mistérios desta complexa cidade.

No espírito de aventura académica partilhada que animou os organizadores até hoje, damos as boas vindas para a primeira reunião conjunta da Sociedade Latinoamericana de Estudios Sociales da Ciência e Tecnologia e da Society for Social Studies of Science!

Contamos com as suas ferramentas e materiais para esta construção.

From the Program Chairs

We extend thanks to ESOCITE and 4S Governing Councils for trusting us in putting the program together. Because of his accumulated experience, Wes Shrum made the management of this joint meeting easier and, many times, very enjoyable. We thank Steve Coffee for multidimensional guidance both inside and outside of digital spaces. His professionalism was outstanding and we could rely on his experience every time we needed.

Wenda Bauchspies, Luciano Levin, Stefania Charitou, Ezequiel Benito, and Hugo Ferpozzi have helped us in many and professional ways. We want to un-blackbox their work because this program unfairly hides the hours and efforts they have devoted to the organization of this conference.

Hebe Vessuri, Hernán Thomas, Olga Restrepo, Antonio Arellano, Noela Invernizzi, Rosalba Casas, Fernando Domínguez-Rubio, Javier Lezaún, Vincenzo Pavone, Anita Say Chan, and María Puig de la Bellacasa reviewed individual submissions and sessions in timely fashion and contributed to the success of this conference. More than one hundred open panel organizers also helped us to organize this program and we want to acknowledge their support and dedication. Although the final composition of sessions is our responsibility, their help was very useful to put this program together.

We must thank the Intercontinental Hotel staff, who were very professional and flexible in finding ways to meet our requirements for this meeting. We are sure that the success of this conference is due, to some extent, to their talented work.

The local team acknowledges the support of CONICET (National Council for S&T Research), the ANPCyT (National Agency for Promoting S&T), the CYTED (Ibero-American Programme for Science, Technology and Development), CLACSO (Latin American Council for Social Sciences) and all the staff and members of the STS Center

Finally, we think of this meeting as located at the crossroad of many diverse academic cultures, an exercise of multicultural and multilingual exchange that will challenge our common understanding of STS and the field. We invite everyone to engage in this exercise meaningfully and to enjoy this porteño winter.

Mensaje de los Organizadores

Agradecemos sinceramente a los consejos directivos de ESOCITE y de 4S por confiar en nosotros para la organización de este Congreso. Debido a su larga experiencia, Wes Shrum hizo que la gestión de este evento fuese mucho más fácil y, en ocasiones, muy divertida. Agradecemos a Steve Coffee por su ayuda multidimensional tanto dentro como fuera de los espacios digitales; su profesionalismo es extraordinario y en él pudimos apoyarnos cada vez que lo necesitamos.

Wenda Bauchspies, Luciano Levin, Stefania Charitou, Ezequiel Benito y Hugo Ferpozzi nos han ayudado de muchas y muy profesionales maneras a lo largo de este último año. Queremos sacar de la "caja negra" su trabajo porque este programa esconde, injustamente, las horas y esfuerzos que ellos realizaron para la organización del Congreso.

Hebe Vessuri, Hernán Thomas, Olga Restrepo, Antonio Arellano, Noela Invernizzi, Rosalba Casas, Fernando Domínguez-Rubio, Javier Lezaún, Vincenzo Pavone, Anita Say Chan, y María Puig de la Bellacasa revisaron envíos individuales y sesiones en tiempo y forma y han contribuido decisivamente al éxito del Congreso. Más de cien organizadores de paneles abiertos nos ayudaron a organizar este programa y queremos destacar su apoyo y dedicación. Aunque la composición final de las sesiones es nuestra responsabilidad, su asistencia ha sido de una gran importancia.

Queremos agradecer al personal del Hotel Intercontinental, quienes fueron muy profesionales y flexibles para satisfacer los pedidos especiales que se requieren en un evento como éste. Estamos convencidos de que el éxito de esta conferencia se debe en buena medida a su talentoso trabajo.

El grupo local quiere reconocer el apoyo del CONICET (Consejo Nacional de Investigaciones Científicas y Técnicas), la ANPCyT (Agencia Nacional de Promoción de la CyT), CYTED (Programa Iberoamericano de ciencia y tecnología para el desarrollo), CLACSO (Consejo Latinoamericano de Ciencias Sociales) y a todos los miembros del Centro CTS.

Finalmente, concebimos este encuentro como algo situado en la intersección de diversas culturas académicas, un ejercicio de intercambio multicultural y multilingüístico que desafiará nuestra comprensión común de los estudios CTS y del campo. Invitamos a todos a participar activamente en este ejercicio y esperamos que disfruten del invierno porteño.

Mensagem dos organizadores

Agradecemos aos conselhos diretivos de ESOCITE e de 4S por confiar em nós para a preparação deste Congresso. Dada sua longa experiência, Wes Shrum fez a gestão do evento mais fácil e, por vezes, muito divertida. Agradecemos a Steve Coffee sua ajuda multidimensional tanto dentro como fora do espaço digital; seu profissionalismo foi extraordinário e significou um apoio indispensável sempre que foi preciso.

Wenda Bauchspies, Luciano Levin, Stefania Charitou, Ezequiel Benito e Hugo Ferpozzi ajudaram-nos de muitas maneiras e muito profissionalmente durante todo o último ano. Queremos abrir a "caixa preta" de seu trabalho, porque este programa esconde injustamente as horas e os esforços que eles dedicaram à organização do Congresso.

Hebe Vessuri, Hernán Thomas, Olga Restrepo, Antonio Arellano, Noela Invernizzi, Rosalba Casas, Fernando Domínguez-Rubio, Javier Lezaun, Vincenzo Pavone, Anita Say Chan, e Maria Puig de la Bellacasa avaliaram as submissões individuais e as sessões em tempo e forma, o que foi fundamental para o sucesso do Congresso. Mais de uma centena de organizadores de painéis abertos nos ajudaram a organizar este programa e queremos destacar o seu apoio e dedicação. Embora a composição final das sessões seja nossa responsabilidade, sua colaboração foi muito útil para a elaboração deste programa.

Agradecemos ao pessoal do Hotel Intercontinental, que foi muito profissional e flexível para atender os pedidos especiais que são necessários em um evento como este. Estamos convencidos de que o sucesso desta conferência foi em grande parte devido ao seu trabalho talentoso.

O grupo local quer agradecer o apoio do CONICET (Conselho Nacional de Pesquisas Científicas e Técnicas), ANPCyT (Agência Nacional para a Promoção da C & T), CYTED (Programa Ibero-americano de Ciência e Tecnologia para o Desenvolvimento), CLACSO (Conselho Latino-Americano de Ciências Sociais), e a todos os membros do Centro de CTS.

Finalmente, nós concebemos este evento situando-o na interseção de diferentes culturas académicas, como um exercício de troca multicultural e multilinguística que desafiamos nosso entendimento comum de CTS e do campo inteiro. Convidamos a todos a participar ativamente neste exercício e esperamos que vocês aproveitem o inverno "porteño".

 Engineering and Sustainable Community Development Juan Lucena, Colorado School of Mines; Jen Schneider, Colorado School of Mines; Jon Leydens, Colorado School of Mines

Engineering and War: Militarism, Ethics, Institutions, Alternatives Michael Levine, UWA; Dean Nieusma, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; Ethan Blue, UWA

Engineers, Society, and Sustainability Sarah Bell, University College London

The Garbage Crisis: A Global Challenge for Engineers Caroline Baillie, UWA; Randika Jayasinghe, University of Western Australia; Toni Smythe, UWA; Usman Mushtaq, Queens University

Estado, ingeniería y territorio: el Ministerio de Obras Públicas de la Nación en Argentina Anahí Ballent, Instituto de Estudios de la Ciencia y la Tecnología. Universidad Nacional de Quilmes, Argentina

Discussant:

Carl Mitcham, Colorado School of Mines

009. Imagining Energy Futures

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Moliere

Chair:

Monamie Bhadra, Arizona State University

Participants:

The Solar Haj: Morocco's Role in Mediterranean Energy Integration Sharlissa Moore, Arizona State University

Carbon Markets, Forests, and the Re-Imagination of the Global Chad Monfreda, Arizona State University

Forging necessary political fictions through nuclear energy in India Monamie Bhadra, Arizona State University

Discussant:

Shobita Parthasarathy, University of Michigan

010. Inter-cultural Communication Within and Beyond Science and Technology

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Monserrat I

Chairs:

Tiago Ribeiro Duarte, University of Brasilia

Luis Ignacio Reyes-Galindo, Cardiff University

Participants:

Mediating communication: Trust, interactional expertise, and the fractal model Tiago Ribeiro Duarte, University of Brasilia

Probing the social boundaries of scientific knowledge: the heartlands and hinterlands of physics Luis Ignacio Reyes-Galindo, Cardiff University

The Distinction Between Experts and Non-Experts: Methodological Consequences for Research in Science Communication Aline Guevara Villegas, Institute of Nuclear Sciences National Autonomous University of Mexico

Innermost and Outermost Scientific Communication: Different or Analogous Processes? Carina Cortassa, Centro REDES

An Intercultural STS Approach to the "Troubles" of Marginalized Youth Roberto Domingo Toledo, INSHEA, France

011. Laboratory Experiments: Alternatives and Dynamics

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Monserrat II

Chair:

Luciana de Souza Leao, Columbia University

Participants:

The taste bud and the form. Ethnography of sensory labs Thomas Vangeebergen, FNRS-Université de Liège/CSI - Ecoles des Mines

Randomized Evaluations in the making Luciana de Souza Leao, Columbia University

American Behavioral Scientists, Taiwanese Technocrats, and Social Laboratory of Fertility Control in the 1960s Yu-Ling Huang, State University of New York at Binghamton

A mobilização do saber em atividades repetitivas na indústria têxtil Vitor Guilherme Carneiro Figueiredo, UNIFEI; Michelle Karine Figueiredo, 3186237491; Leonardo Gonçalves, UFMG

Epistemologías sociales y modelos de experimentación María Soledad López, Universidad Nacional de La Plata - Facultad de Humanidades y Ciencias de la Educación

Science in Captivity Cristina Visperas, UCSD

012. Fermentation / Fermentación

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Mozart

Chairs:

Heather Paxson, MIT

Deborah Heath, Lewis & Clark College

Participants:

Germs, homes and health: Keeping bacteria at bay in Canada Carlos Novas, Carleton University

Narrating Fermentation: American Scientists Tell of the "Good," as well as the "Bad," Microbes that Make Cheese Heather Paxson, MIT

When Yeast's Waste is Human's Energy: Paradox in a Brazilian Biofuel Fermentation Lab Nicole Labruto, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Vines, Wines and Qualisigns: Vineyard and Cellar Biogeographies Deborah Heath, Lewis & Clark College

013. (Re)Thinking the Bioeconomy I

Paper Session
8:30 to 10:30 am
Picasso

Chair:

Vincenzo Pavone, CSIC - Consejo Superior Investigaciones Científicas

Participants:

Imagining the value(s) of 'population laboratories' in biomedical sciences Erik Aarden, Harvard University

Imperative to Collect: A Case Study of Six Biobanks Dragana Lassiter, UNC-Chapel Hill; Jean Cadigan, UNC-Chapel Hill; Henderson Gail, UNC-Chapel Hill

Production of Biovalue in Global Bioeconomy: Biotechnological Commodification Chih-hsing Ho, Academia Sinica

Pattern and Dynamics of Science-Based Innovation: The Case of BGI YouZhao Gou, Tsinghua University in China

Natural in the context of reproductive technologies Maya Fisher, Tel Aviv University

Discussant:

Eric Deibel, Delft, University of Technology

014. In Search of "Lines of Flights" with / in / to / for / by Latin America and Elsewhere I

Paper Session
8:30 to 10:30 am
Quinquela

Chair:

Ivan da Costa Marques, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro

Participants:

O conceito de Ciência e Cidadania presente nas escolas brasileiras. Elika Takimoto, CEFET-RJ; Antonio Augusto Videira, UERJ

Quipu - Revista Latinoamericana de História de las Ciencias y la Tecnología: comunidade epistêmica Márcia Regina Barros da Silva, Universidade de São Paulo - USP

O que os Estudos CTS podem fazer com e para o Brasil? Uma resposta antropofágica e alguns exemplos Ivan da Costa Marques, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro

Laboratórios Tupiniquins: Produzindo Moedas, Culturas e Outros Bichos Luiz Arthur Silva de Faria, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro - UFRJ

Controvérsias da rede sociotécnica do biodiesel no Brasil Daniela Alves, Universidade Federal De Viçosa

Complejidad, Políticas y Estudios de la CTI en América Latina. Los casos de Chile y Colombia Ronald Domingo Cancino Salas, Depto. Ciencias Sociales, Universidad de la Frontera; Luis Antonio Orozco, Universidad Externado de Colombia; Cristhian Fabian

Ruiz, de R&R Conocimiento e Innovación SAS; Ricardo Bonilla J., Colegio de Estudios Superiores de Administración CESA; José Roberto Coloma Zapata, Universidad de La Frontera

015. Combining Scientometrics and Indexes with Studies on Gender in Science

Paper Session
8:30 to 10:30 am
Soldi

Chair:

Anne-Sophie Godfroy, Science Norms Decision (university Paris Sorbonne & CNRS)

Participants:

Participación de mujeres científicas en la química colombiana (1971-1999) Roy Waldhiersen Morales Pérez, Universidad Nacional de Colombia; Yuri Jack Gómez Morales, Universidad Nacional de Colombia

Creating Pregnant Lived Body and Feminist Subjects Yu O Yang, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
Indexes and indicators: Translating the real world into numbers creates a new social reality. The GenderTime case Anne-Sophie Godfroy, Science Norms Decision (university Paris Sorbonne & CNRS)

Perceptions of the Work Environment in Universities and National Research Institutes: The Role of Gender and Bureaucracy in Three Low-Income Countries Paige Miller, University of Wisconsin, River Falls; Antony Palackal Varghese, Loyola College of Social Sciences; Mark Schafer, Louisiana State University; Wesley Shrum, Louisiana State University

Detección y análisis de "comunidades bibliográficas" en las publicaciones CTS de Latinoamérica Daniela de Filippo, Universidad Carlos III de Madrid

016. Locating Science, Policy and Indigeneity in the Americas

Paper Session
8:30 to 10:30 am
Verdi

Chair:

Tess Lanza-Rotta, Yale University

Participants:

Decolonizing Medical Practice: Activist Critiques and New State Projects in Bolivia Gabriela Morales, Yale University

Training the Anthropologist: Xavante Interlocutors and Research Roles in Brazilian Anthropology Rosanna Dent, University of Pennsylvania

Vulnerable Populations: Sovereignty and Science in Arctic Alaska Jennifer Brown, University of Pennsylvania

Knowledge co-production on territories with stakeholders to act for sustainability Roberto Cittadini, Labintex INTA Argentina / UMR Innovation, INRA, France; Claire Ruault, GERDAL, FRANCE; Christophe Soulard, UMR Innovation, INRA, France

Arctic Medicine, Epidemiology, and 'Eskimo' Blood: The Beginnings of Indigenous Biomedical Communities in Alaska Tess Lanza-Rotta, Yale University

017. The Human Body in Advanced Biomedicine: Transformative Trials, Experimental Practices

Paper Session
11:00 to 1:00 pm
Biblioteca

Chairs:

Paul Just, University of Vienna, Dpt. of Political Science/Life Science Governance (LSG) Research Platform
Christian Haddad, University of Vienna

Participants:

Autologous biopolitics: governing the experimental use of patient-own stem cells
Christian Haddad, University of Vienna
Travelling through brain/histories: bio-objects in clinical research trials Paul Just, University of Vienna, Dpt. of Political Science/Life Science Governance (LSG) Research Platform
Public participation and self-care practices: How runners negotiate medical expertise in the everyday management of injury Patricia Campbell, University of Calgary/Red Deer College
Competition over Expert Authority in the New Field of Human IVF Jung-Ok Ha, Seoul National University

018. Theorizing STS from the Southern Cone: The Geopolitics of Science in the Global South

Paper Session
11:00 to 1:00 pm
Borges

Chairs:

Marco Antonio Ramos, Yale University
Alejandra Golman, ISES-IDES/UNGS-CONICET

Participants:

International, regional or local economic liberalism? Political economy and international experts in Latin America, 1850-1890 Jimena Caravaca, IDES-CIS-CONICET
Antipsychiatry in Transit: Hippie Communes, Postcolonial Laboratories, and Cultural Imperialism in Cold War Argentina Marco Antonio Ramos, Yale University
A historical perspective on university psychology curricula in Argentina: A recent look at major authors and theories Eugenia González, UNCuyo-UNCórdoba-CONICET

025. Revisiting Closure, Stabilisation and Black Boxing through Unfinished Artefacts

Paper Session

11:00 to 1:00 pm

Mozart

Chairs:

Peter Dunajcsik-Maxigas, IN3/UOC, Metatron Research Unit

Eduard Aibar, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya

Participants:

Open Source Experiments: How to Open the Tangible World? Christoph Schneider, Karlsruhe Institute of Technology, Institute for Technology Assessment and Systems Analysis

Revisiting closure, stabilisation and blackboxing: Peer production of Unfinished Artefacts Peter Dunajcsik-Maxigas, IN3/UOC, Metatron Research Unit

What's in a password? Redefining "technical solidarity" through decentralized data storage Francesca Musiani, MINES ParisTech; Melanie Dulong de Rosnay, Institut des Sciences de la Communication du CNRS

Free Software developers' organizational culture Matheus Guimarães Mello, Universidade Federal de Goiás

Difusión y organización de comunidades de software libre en Argentina Agustín Zanotti, CIECS UNC-CONICET

Peer production and academia: faculty perceptions and practices about Wikipedia
Eduard Aibar, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya

026. Biovalue and Biocapital: Critiques, Rethinks and Futures

Paper Session

11:00 to 1:00 pm

Picasso

Chair:

Kean Birch, York University

Participants:

Biopolitics, surplus population and multinational mining megaprojects Isabella Alves Lamas, Centre for Social Studies - University of Coimbra

Global Biopolitics of Multiple Embryo Transfer Chia-Ling Wu, National Taiwan University

Risks and Myths: Recurring Histories for Life Science Futures Mark Robinson, Princeton University

From "Oocyte Donors" to "Human Subjects": Oocyte Donation, Reproductive Labor, and the Neoliberal State in California and New York Erin Allyson Heidt-Forsythe, The Pennsylvania State University, University Park

Rethinking value in the bio-economy: Assetization, corporate governance and materiality Kean Birch, York University

027. In Search of "lines of flights" with / in / to / for / by Latin America and Elsewhere II

Paper Session

11:00 to 1:00 pm

Quinquela

Chair:

Javiera Barandiaran, University of California, Santa Barbara

Participants:

A batalha dos UNIX-compativeis brasileiros: todos contra o SOX Márcia de Oliveira Cardoso, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro

O Marketing e o automóvel (FNM - FIAT) Alfa Romeo 2300. Eduardo Nazareth Paiva, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro; Ivan da Costa Marques, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro

Paper Session

2:00 to 4:00 pm

Montserrat I

Chairs:

Sandra P. Gonzalez-Santos, Universidad Nacional Autonoma de Mexico, Universidad Iberoamericana

Rafael Antunes Almeida, Universidad de Brasilia

Participants:

An experiment involving STS, art, the digital realm and 15 people Sandra P. Gonzalez-Santos, Universidad Nacional Autonoma de Mexico, Universidad Iberoamericana

Dear Scientists... Ioanna Semendeferi, University of Houston

Can the Arts Help to Save the World? Balance-Unbalance and the 'art! x climate' projects Ricardo Dal Farra, Concordia University - Canada / UNTREF - Argentina

Making and Diving: Performing and Re-forming Boundaries Between Art and Trash Guy Schaffer, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; Ellen Foster, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

Inscrições do futuro: ficção científica e teoria ator-rede Walter Eler Couto, Universidade Federal de Mato Grosso; Dolores Galindo, Universidade Federal de Mato Grosso

078. Centers and Peripheries in Science and Technology II

Paper Session

2:00 to 4:00 pm

Montserrat II

Chair:

Hebe Vessuri, CIGA-UNAM

Participants:

Como a ciência torna-se periférica: um estudo sobre a verdade irrelevante Fabricio Monteiro Neves, UNB

The unfavored region: The absence of Latin America in ICT4D research Caroline Stratton, University of Texas at Austin; Diane Bailey, University of Texas at Austin

Offshoring offshore wind: A Norwegian offshore (ad)venture in China Marius Korsnes, Department of Interdisciplinary Studies of Culture, Norwegian University of Science and Technology

The Internationalization of First Principle Model field: A Brazilian case Marcio Felipe Salles Medeiros, Universidade de Brasilia

Space activities on the periphery: an approach from Argentina's foreign policy Daniel Blinder, Centro de Estudios de Historia de la Ciencia y de la Técnica José Babini

079. Quantifying Affect and Emotion, Past and Present

Paper Session

2:00 to 4:00 pm

Mozart

Chair:

Luke Stark, New York University

Participants:

Making Emotion Fit Theory: Four Humors Equals Four Emotions in Medieval and Early Modern Medicine Nicole Archambeau, University of California, Santa Barbara

A Social History of International Disease Classification on Mental Disorders, 1948-1975 Harry Yi-Jui Wu, Nanyang Technological University

The PANAS Scale and Self-Therapeutic Tracking Luke Stark, New York University

The Quantified Qualified self: The Number Affect Farzana Dudhwala, University of Oxford

Tracking the Self, Installing Expertise: Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy and the Auto-regulating Subject Beth Semel, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

080. Educación superior y formación de ingenieros

Paper Session

2:00 to 4:00 pm

Picasso

Chair:

José Germano Neto, Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Norte

Participants:

ASC&T, cotidiano e consumo tecnológico: leituras e aproximações Juliana Cristina Santicli dos Santos, Universidade Federal de São Carlos - PPGCTS; Cidoval Moraes de Sousa, UEPB

Nosotros: los otros, complejizando la educación científica en la periferia Diana María Farias, Universidad Nacional de Colombia

Pluralidade Epistêmica, Técnicas Locais e Emancipação Social José Germano Neto, Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Norte

Cuidado com o celular: uma abordagem CTS em aulas de Biologia André Luiz Rodrigues dos Santos Cunha, Universidade Federal do Pará; José Alexandre Da Silva Valente, UNIVERSIDADE FEDERAL DO PARÁ

El documental como herramienta de comunicación del primer Juicio Ciudadano Uruguayo Ana Vasquez, Facultad de Ciencias, Udelar; Marila Lázaro Olaizola, Unidad de Ciencia y Desarrollo, Facultad de Ciencias, Udelar; Diego Vidart, Colectivo DoKumental

Participação Docente na Seleção de Temas de Estudo: CTS como Dinamizador de Listagens de Conteúdos Caetano Castro Roso, Universidade Federal de Santa Catarina; Décio Auler, Universidade Federal de Santa Maria

081. Complejidad y redes tecno-científicas en salud

Paper Session
2:00 to 4:00 pm
Quinquela

Chair:
Yuri Carvajal Bañados, Universidad de Chile

Participants:
Percepção Pública da Saúde Simone Pallone de Figueiredo, The State University of Campinas (Unicamp); Carlos Vogt, The State University of Campinas (Unicamp); Ana Paula Morales, DPCT/Labjor/Unicamp; Milagros Varguez, Tecnológico de Monterrey; Rodrigo Bastos Cunha, Labjor/Unicamp; Patricia Aline Santos, Labjor/Unicamp; Cristiane Gonçalves Pinho, Fundação Antonio Prudente; Marcio Derbli, Instituto de Saúde
Software de gestão da saúde da família: um caso de desembarque da ciência? José Marcos Silveira Gonçalves, UFRJ; Fernando Gonçalves Severo, 4S Membership
Tecnologías informáticas en salud; el caso de la reforma en Chile Jimena Carrasco, Universidad Austral de Chile; Sebastián Medina, Universidad de Chile; Jorge Pacheco, Universidad de Concepción
La colapsoterapia antituberculosa; llevando el confinamiento dentro de los cuerpos Anibal Vivaceta, Escuela de Medicina, Universidad de Valparaíso
Corpo Feminino como Lugar de Produção de Verdades sobre a Menopausa Rebeca Buzzo Feltrin, State University of Campinas (UNICAMP); Lea Velho, State University of Campinas, Brazil

082. Mediating Political Participation I

Paper Session
2:00 to 4:00 pm
Soldi

Chair:
Maria Vidart-Delgado, MIT

Participants:
Neoliberal Reform, Expertise, and Social Relations in Fire Safety Regulation: The Rise of Performance Based Design Fire Engineering Graham Spinardi, University of Edinburgh
Engaging in a de-centred world Maja Horst, University of Copenhagen; Alan Irwin, Copenhagen Business School
A Civic Alternative: D.I.Y. Hydrogen Sulfide Monitoring Elisabeth Wilder, Northeastern University; Sara Wyllie, Northeastern University

From assistance centers to official reports: technical mediations of humanitarian aid and compensation in Colombia Fredy A. Mora-Gómez, University of Leicester, Universidad Nacional de Colombia

Discussant:
Maria Vidart-Delgado, MIT

083. Design/Think with Care, STS & Local Issues I

Paper Session
2:00 to 4:00 pm
Verdi

Chairs:
Andrea Botero, Aalto University
Maria Fernanda Olarte Sierra, Universidad de los Andes, Bogotá

Participants:
Beyond participation, caring as design strategy Andrea Botero, Aalto University
Bordar la tecnología y tecnologizar el bordado: encuentro entre conocimientos, saberes y experiencias Manuel Franco-Avellaneda, OCyT; Laura Cortés, Pontificia Universidad Javeriana
Sobre Design e Tecnologias Sociais: Construção simbólica e cultural na Casa do Artesão Mariense/MG. Douglas dos Santos Lemos Lima, Universidade Federal de Itajubá; Adilson Silva Mello, Universidade Federal de Itajubá; Rosinei Batista Ribeiro, Faculdades Integradas Teresa D'Ávila (FATEA) / Universidade do Estado do Rio de Janeiro (UERJ); Bianca Siqueira Martins Domingos, Universidade Federal de Itajubá - UNIFEI
Contando con cuidado y tejiendo bienes comunes Maria Fernanda Olarte-Sierra, Department of Design, Universidad de los Andes
Aprendiendo a leer la naturaleza: relación entre conocimientos científicos y conocimientos ancestrales y locales Catherine Ramos García, Universidad Nacional de Quilmes. Centro de Estudios Culturales y Ecológicos Prescott College

084. Plasticity, Local Biologies and Lamarckianism Across the Contemporary Life Sciences II

Paper Session
4:30 to 6:30 pm
Biblioteca

Chair:
Sahra Gibbon, University College London

Participants:
Reproductive Knowledge and Genetic Risk: a construction of a genetic disease in the Sertões of Brazil Neide Mayumi Osada, Unicamp (Brazil); Maria Conceição da Costa, Unicamp (Brazil)
Meanings and practices in the search for biogenetic origins of adoptees in Brazil and Quebec Débora Allebrandt, Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul - Brazil
We Are Who We Eat: Local biologies of plants, animals, and humans John Hartigan, University of Texas, Austin

Environment, Epigenetics and Ethnography in Mexico City Elizabeth F.S. Roberts, University of Michigan
 Artifice or Application? Unfolding a History of DNA Nanotechnology Patrick McCray, University of California, Santa Barbara; Brian Tyrell, University of California, Santa Barbara

085. Politics, Publics, Participation and Practices: Governance of Technologies in Global Networks II

Paper Session
 4:30 to 6:30 pm
 Borges

Chair:
Patricia Adriana Vargas-Leon, Syracuse University

Participants:
 The Internet kill switch: a tool to ensure the survival of governments and nation-states Patricia Adriana Vargas-Leon, Syracuse University
 Las empresas transnacionales en la gobernanza del ciberespacio Maria de Lourdes Marquina Sánchez, Universidad Autónoma de la Ciudad de México/Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México
 An approach to national Internet governance mechanisms Carolina Aguerre, Universidad de San Andrés
 The Borders of the Informational State: The Geopolitics of Macro-Level Socio-Technical Systems Sandra Braman, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

Discussant:
Olga Cavalli, Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Argentina

086. Thinking with Techno-anthropology II

Paper Session
 4:30 to 6:30 pm
 Chopin

Chair:
Cathrine Hasse, Aarhus University

Participants:
 Technological Kinships: Vibrant technologies and nurse-patient engagements Ann Katrine Bønnelykke Soffer, Aarhus University, School of Education
 Calculating future life: living with the life-sustaining technologies in Japan Goro Yamazaki, Osaka University
 Rethinking Agency Through Distraction Jesper Aagaard, Aarhus University
 Power, Meaning and Mapping: Semiotics of Participatory Geographical Information Systems Paul Manson, Portland State University
 Expertise in context: roles and statuses of experts in organization Olga Lelebina, Institut Supérieur de Gestion

087. Pensamento Iberoamericano em Ciência, Tecnologia e Desenvolvimento II

Paper Session
 4:30 to 6:30 pm
 Dali

Chairs:
Renato Peixoto Dagnino, Universidade Estadual de Campinas - UNICAMP/Brazil
Márcio Moutinho Abdalla, Universidade Federal Fluminense
Maria Fernanda Rollo, Universidade Nova de Lisboa

Participants:
 Tecnologias e Utopias no Pensamento Anarquista Brasileiro (1900-1935) Gilson Leandro Queluz, Universidade Tecnológica Federal do Paraná (UTFPR)
 O Desenvolvimentismo de Pinto e Guerreiro Ramos e o Neodesenvolvimentismo Ricardo Afonso Ferreira de Vasconcelos, UTFPR; Mario Lopes Amorim, Universidade Tecnológica Federal do Paraná
 Pensando los vínculos entre ciencia, tecnologia y desarrollo en Latinoamérica: las ideas de Osvaldo Sunkel Eliana Arancibia Gutierrez, UNAM-UNICAMP; Daniela Pinheiro, State University of Campinas - UNICAMP
 Repensando Desenvolvimento Local e o Problema das Cidades Orientadas ao Mercado Márcio Moutinho Abdalla, Universidade Federal Fluminense; Alexandre Faria, FGV-EBAPE
 La ciencia en cuestión en la Argentina. Ejes de un debate de principios de los años 70 Adriana Feld, CONICET - UNQ - U. Maimónides

088. Crossings: Tacking Between Spaces of Resistance

Paper Session
 4:30 to 6:30 pm
 Miró

Chair:
Antonia Caitlin Walford, CRESC/OU

Participants:
 Equatorial Savage as Radical Chic: Geographies of Desire in the Age of Global Technocultures Kavita Philip, University of California, Irvine
 Why Bogotá? The Local, the Global and the Interesting, Reflexively Malcolm Ashmore, Loughborough University; Olga Restrepo Forero, Universidad Nacional de Colombia
 Trapped between Science and Religion: Theory of Evolution in Turkish Academia Kaya Akyuz, University of Vienna / Bogazici University; Banu Saatci, Istanbul Sehir University
 Visión(es) alter-nativa(s): Curación, relación y diferencia en el Sur de Chile. Cristobal Bonelli, University of Amsterdam
 Feeling Policy: Emotional Entanglements, Evidence and Contested Policy Fields Michael Orsini, University of Ottawa

Discussants:
Salvador Schavelzon, Universidade Federal de São Paulo
Felipe Sussekind, PUC-Rio

089. Knowledge Transfer Via Material Objects: Writing it Out

Paper Session

4:30 to 6:30 pm

Moliere

Chair:

Edna F. Einsiedel, University of Calgary

Participants:

Mathematizing Music Composition: The Twentieth-Century Development of the Schillinger System *Clare Kim, MIT*Message in a bottle: Knowledge-transfer through market *Sandra Daza-Caicedo, Universidad de los Andes/Observatorio Colombiano de Ciencia y Tecnología*Pinole: a hybrid food *Alexandra Littaye, University of Oxford*Biofuels in political cartoons: ironies, side effects and discolourings *Edna F. Einsiedel, University of Calgary090. Systems of Oversight

Paper Session

4:30 to 6:30 pm

Mozart

Participants:

The Integrated Weather Team: A Potential Collaborative Site of STS Intervention *Jennifer J Henderson, Virginia Tech*Securing the living: governance, materiality and understandings of life during biological emergencies *Jose Antonio Cañada, University of Helsinki*Assessing the Economic Benefits of Early Warning Systems for Companies *Simone Wurster, Technische Universität Berlin, Institut für Technologie und Management, FG Innovationsökonomie - VWS 2, Müller-Breslau-Straße 15 (Schleuseninsel), D-10623 Berlin; Michael Klafft, Fraunhofer-Institut für Offene Kommunikationssysteme FOKUS, Kaiserin-Augusta-Allee 31, 10589 Berlin, Germany*How to sell uncertain technologie? (Re)Exploring detachments in ANT *Frederic Goulet, CIRAD, UMR Innovation / INTA Laboratorio Internacional AgriTerris; Ronan Le Velly, Montpellier SupAgro*Sociotechnical Resilience as an STS Concept Sulfikar Amir, Nanyang Technological University (NTU)

Discussant:

Vivian Y. Choi, Cornell University091. Innovación

Paper Session

4:30 to 6:30 pm

Conferencias de consenso en Uruguay: energía nuclear, minería (y desarrollo) Alejandra Umpiérrez, Facultad de Humanidades y Ciencias de la Educación, Udelar; Marila Lázaro Olaizola, Unidad de Ciencia y Desarrollo, Facultad de Ciencias, Udelar; Ana Vasquez, Facultad de Ciencias, Udelar; Andrés Rius, Instituto de Ciencias Económicas, Udelar

094. Design/Think with care, STS & Local Issues II

Paper Session

4:30 to 6:30 pm

Verdi

Chair:

Tania Pérez Bustos, Pontificia Universidad Javeriana

Participants:

Feminist dialogues on care to envision imaginaries around gametes Sara Lafuente, CSIC - Consejo Superior de Investigaciones Científicas (Spanish National Research Council)

¿Qué implica diseñar participativamente tecnologías desde el cuidado? Tania Pérez Bustos, Pontificia Universidad Javeriana

De la puntada al circuito: etnografía del proceso de construcción de un lenguaje de programación que se borda Sara Daniela Márquez, Universidad Nacional de Colombia

The happiness of local and global inequalities Michael Nebeling Petersen, Southern University of Denmark

095. Banquet and Tango Show

Special Event

7:00 to 11:00 pm

Montserrat

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22

096. Modelos de Institucionalização e Mecanismos de Difusão em Política Científica e Tecnológica

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Biblioteca

Chairs:

Carolina Bagattolli, UFPR - Universidade Federal do Paraná

Tiago Brandão, IHC, FCSH-UNL

Participants:

O padrão recente da PCT&I brasileira e as máximas do inovacionismo Tildo José Furlan Junior, Universidade Estadual de Campinas - UNICAMP; Rafael Dias, Campinas State University

Políticas de CTI en América Latina: transferencia intrarregional de conocimientos y capacidades nacionales Belén Baptista, Universidad de la República, Uruguay; Amílcar Davyt García, Unidad de Ciencia y Desarrollo, Facultad de Ciencias, Udelar

Toward Buzzword Studies: Sexual Health and the Power of Buzz Steven Epstein, Northwestern University; Laura Mamo, San Francisco State University

100. Materializing, Practicing and Contesting Data I

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Miró

Chairs:

Nerea Calvillo, Goldsmiths, University of London

Jennifer Gabrys, Goldsmiths, University of London

Helen Pritchard, Goldsmiths, University of London

Nick Shapiro, University of Oxford

Participants:

Stuck Inside of Mobile? Local Climate Initiatives Practicing Eco-feedback Georg Aichholzer, Austrian Academy of Sciences, Institute of Technology Assessment

Anticipating the Future: Temporal Regimes of Meteorological Decision Making Phaedra Daifha, Rutgers University

Change in degree of trust about misconceptions on radioactivity Kazumi Sano, National Institute for Environmental Studies

From Network to Egg: The Extended Arrangements of Air Pollution Data Jennifer Gabrys, Goldsmiths, University of London; Nerea Calvillo, Goldsmiths, University of London; Helen Pritchard, Goldsmiths, University of London; Tom Keene, Goldsmiths, University of London; Nick Shapiro, University of Oxford

The digital coral reef Elena Parmiggiani, Norwegian University of Science and Technology; Eric Monteiro, Department of Informatics, University of Oslo

101. Engaging society in research and innovation I

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Moliere

Chair:

Henk Mulder, University of Groningen

Participants:

Towards societal embedding of synthetic biology - engaging the public Afke Wieke Betten, Athena Institute, VU University Amsterdam; Jacqueline Broerse, Free University Amsterdam; Frank Kupper, VU University Amsterdam; Tjard de Cock Buning, Prof. dr.

Mind the gap: democratic participation, scientific enquiry and public engagement- Insights from the Surprise project Vincenzo Pavone, CSIC - Consejo Superior Investigaciones Científicas; Elvira Santiago, Consejo Superior Investigaciones Científicas; Sara Degli Esposti, The Open University Business School

Indigenous Knowledge Systems and Science, Technology and Innovation Policies in Latin American Ernesto Fernandez Polcuch, UNESCO; alessandro bello, UNESCO

What Smart Grids tell about innovation narratives in the EU: hopes, visions and regulation Lucia Vesnic-Alujevic, European Commission; Melina Breitegger, European Commission; Ângela Guimarães Pereira, European Commission - Joint Research Centre

102. Nanoparticles and macro policy: Reflections on the development of nanotechnology in the Americas I

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Montserrat I

Participants:

Compliance Programs, Direito à informação do consumidor e riscos nanotecnológicos Wilson Engelmann, UNISINOS; Raquel von Hohendorff, Unisinis

Nanotecnología en Venezuela: desarrollo científico-tecnológico en el nuevo marco político Maria Sonsire Lopez, Centro Estudios de la Ciencia. Instituto Venezolano de Investigaciones Científicas

Movimiento de asimetrías en las redes. Nuevas formas de entender las relaciones científicas entre el Sur y Norte Global Marcela Suarez, FCCyT

Procesos de I+D en nanotecnologías: análisis socio-técnico de instrumentos de políticas públicas en el sistema Agroalimentario Argentino. Tomás Javier Carrozza, Universidad de Mar del Plata

Workers' demands for precaution and transparency in nanotechnology development Richard Appelbaum, University of California, Santa Barbara; Guillermo Foladori, Universidad Autónoma de Zacatecas; Edgar Zayago Lau, Autonomous University of Zacatecas

Nanotechnology and Worker Health and Safety Kristen Kulinowski, Science and Technology Policy Institute, USA

Discussant:

Jason Gallo, Science and Technology Policy Institute

103. Structure

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Montserrat II

Participants:

Health, Space, and the Profession of the Dean of Women in American Colleges (1890-1915) Carla Yanni, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ

Structural Competency for Structural Disciplines: Universal Design education and epistemologies of evidence-based design Aimi Hamraie, Vanderbilt University

"Some Women May Be Reluctant to Discuss Their Pain": Vulvar Incompetence at the NIH Christine Labuski, Virginia Tech

Threat Governmentality and "Moral Injury": the structure of decision and the pathology of feeling in US military behavioral health Kenneth MacLeish, Center for Medicine, Health and Society

Breaking the Cycle? Circuits of development, testing, and exchange in new tuberculosis therapies Susan Craddock, University of Minnesota

Discussants:

JuLeigh Petty, Vanderbilt University

Jonathan metzl, Vanderbilt University

104. Civic Infrastructure & Democratic Epistemologies

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Mozart

Chair:

Max Liboiron, Northeastern University

Participants:

Data Collection as Activism: Grassroots Canvassing after Hurricane Sandy Max Liboiron, Northeastern University

Mapping Wildfires, Managing Time: representing the multiple temporalities of disaster Katrina Petersen, University of California, San Diego

A New Weather Research Lab: Connecting Weather Practitioners to the Academic Community Jennifer J Henderson, Virginia Tech; Laura Myers, University of Alabama; Allen Parrish, University of Alabama

Women of the Storm - Rough Cut Wesley Shrum, Louisiana State University

Local climate governance - possibilities and barriers for municipal promotion of sustainable living Marie Chimwemwe Degenbol, University of Copenhagen

Art and the city: Exploring gaps and short-comings in technoscientific visualizations Anja Johansen, NTNU

Discussant:

Kim Fortun, RPI

105. South-North-South dialogues on Science and Technology I

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Picasso

Chair:

Raoni Guerra Rajão, UFMG

Participants:

Scientists, Publics and Transgenics: Information, Trust, Communication and Engagement on Research dealing with Vector-borne Diseases Christophe Boete, IRD - UMR 190; Uli Beisel, University Halle-Wittenberg; Luisa Reis Castro, Spiral, Université de Liège / Maastricht University; Nicolas Césard, N/A; R.G. Reeves, MPG

Science, Technology, and Society (STS) Studies: China, Europe, and North American in Dialogue Carl Mitcham, Colorado School of Mines; Nan Wang, University of Chinese Academy of Sciences

Unlocking Silent Histories: Lake Atitlan, Guatemala Ricardo B. Duque, Alabama State University; Donna DeGennaro, Unlocking Silent Histories Organization

Exploring the Scientific Aesthetics of Food Labeling in the Americas Stephanie Houston Grey, Louisiana State University

106. Responsible Research and Innovation: Legitimizing Emerging Technologies I

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Quinquela

Chair:

Michelle Chauvet, Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana Azcapotzalco

Participants:

La construcción de "soft law": Hacia una "investigación e innovación responsables (RRI)" en nanotecnología Adriana Chiancone, Universidad de la República; Enrique Martínez Larrechea, Universidad de la Empresa - Uruguay

Nanotechnology in Argentina. A responsible innovation process? Javier Ignacio García Fronti, University of Buenos Aires; Andoni Ibarra, University of the Basque Country

Regulación de las nanotecnologías en México ¿anticipación, alineación o enajenación? Mónica Anzaldo, Centro de Investigación y de Estudios Avanzados del Instituto Politécnico Nacional (CINVESTAV); Michelle Chauvet, Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana Azcapotzalco

Institutionalization of public policies & diffusion of innovation: the case of interventional radiology Philippe Gorry, GREThA CNRS 5113, Dpt. of Social Sciences, University of Bordeaux; Benoit Cyril, Sciences Po Bordeaux; Pascal Ragouet, University of Bordeaux

Regulating New Technologies: A Case Study of Legal Foresighting Shawn Harmon, University of Edinburgh; Fabiana Arzuaga, MINCYT

107. Aproximaciones teóricas y escenarios de educación no formal

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Soldi

Chair:

Eileen Bernal, Universidad Nacional de Colombia

Participants:

Materias CTS en currículos de formación por ciclos en Ingeniería en Colombia Eileen Bernal, Universidad Nacional de Colombia

Educação CTS: sentidos sobre tecnologías em uma proposta pedagógica politécnica Raquel Folmer Corrêa, UFSC

Cidadania sociotécnica na formação de engenheiros: desafios para a educação CTS Edson Jacinski, Universidade Tecnológica Federal do Paraná

A Precarização dos Docentes de Ensino Superior: O Olhar da Saúde do Trabalhador Katia Reis Souza, FIOCRUZ

Revisión del esquema conceptual básico de los estudios CTS+i vistos desde el triángulo del conocimiento Jose Antonio Hernanz Moral, Universidad Veracruzana, Dirección General de Desarrollo Académico e Innovación Educativa; Rubén López Domínguez, Universidad Veracruzana, Instituto de Investigaciones Biológicas.

108. Producción de conocimiento y políticas públicas: tensiones y oportunidades de una compleja relación I

Paper Session

8:30 to 10:30 am

Verdi

Chair:

Héctor Javier Avila, Centro de Estudios de Seguridad Urbana FCPyS UNCuyo

Participants:

Hacia la construcción del campo de los estudios CTS en México Jazmín Anaïd Flores, Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana

Conocimiento criminológico y política criminal: un estudio de caso Héctor Javier Avila, Centro de Estudios de Seguridad Urbana FCPyS UNCuyo

La medición como práctica administrativa y su papel en la construcción de objetos de frontera y gobernabilidad Yuri Jack Gómez Morales, Universidad Nacional de Colombia

Mobilización y mediación de conocimientos. Regulaciones en salud en Argentina Ezequiel Benito, Center for Science, Technology and Society - Maimonides University

Planes Nacionales de Ciencia y Tecnología de Argentina y definición de agendas de investigación Victoria Ugartemendia, UBA

109. Ciência, Tecnologia e Gênero I

Paper Session

11:00 to 1:00 pm

Biblioteca

Chairs:

Maria Margaret Lopes, State University of Campinas (UNICAMP)

Maria Conceição da Costa, Unicamp (Brazil)

Participants:

A Produção de conhecimento em Gênero, Ciência & Tecnologia em periódicos latino-americanos Rebeca Buzzo Feltrin, State University of Campinas (UNICAMP); Maria

La frecuencia será de 20 minutos y la duración total del circuito (20 paradas) de 3 horas y 15 minutos. En cada una de las paradas permanecerá detenido durante breves minutos, para permitir el ascenso y descenso de los pasajeros si los hubiese, o bien sin movimientos de personas. El recorrido está armando en base a 24 paradas que constituyen puntos de gran interés turístico de la Ciudad de Buenos Aires. Ingresar a www.buenosairesbus.com para más información. El precio regular para un día es de $A 170.

Hora oficial

La hora oficial en Buenos Aires es GMT-3.

Horario comercial

El horario comercial de las tiendas en Buenos Aires es, de forma general, de lunes a viernes desde las 9am hasta las 8pm, y los sábados de 9am a 1pm. En las principales zonas comerciales las tiendas permanecen abiertas los sábados por la tarde.

Lugares destacados

Teatro Colón: El Teatro Colón es considerado como uno de los teatros líricos más importantes del mundo y que no se puede dejar de visitar, como La Scala de Milán, la Ópera Garnier de París y el Royal Opera House de Londres.

Obelisco y calle Corrientes: El Centro de la Ciudad de Buenos Aires, que corresponde a los barrios de Monserrat, San Nicolás y Retiro, es reconocido por su bulliciosa actividad comercial, vial y cultural. La efervescencia que se da en la zona del Obelisco y la Avenida Corrientes difícilmente se reproduce en otros barrios.

Plaza de Mayo y casco histórico: Como toda gran capital latinoamericana, la Ciudad de Buenos Aires cuenta con un rico acervo histórico que se ve reflejado en sus edificios y monumentos. Un claro ejemplo de esto es la Plaza de Mayo, epicentro de los acontecimientos políticos más importantes de la historia argentina. Su nombre es un homenaje a la Revolución del 25 de Mayo de 1810, que ocurrió en esta misma plaza y que dio inicio a la gesta de la Independencia argentina.

Costanera Sur: La Costanera Sur fue el paseo más popular durante la primera mitad del siglo XX, cuando los habitantes de la Ciudad se bañaban en el Río de la Plata y existía en la zona un balneario, así como numerosos restaurantes, cervecerías (la más importante fue la Cervecería Munich, hoy convertida en el Centro de Museos de Buenos Aires y que alberga al Museo del Humor) donde en algunos de ellos actuaban a la noche los músicos y artistas de la época.

Caminito: Caminito es uno de los paseos más emblemáticos de la Ciudad y de los atractivos imperdibles para quienes lo visitan. Con sus conventillos típicos de chapa del barrio de La Boca, que muestran sus paredes pintadas de distintos colores, es también un museo a cielo abierto de casi 150 metros de longitud.

Cementerio de la Recoleta: El Cementerio de la Recoleta se encuentra ubicado en el exclusivo barrio de la Recoleta, que debe su nombre a que allí se hallaba el convento de los monjes recoletos, al que también pertenecía la vecina Basílica Nuestra Señora del Pilar (en la antigua huerta de los monjes se construyó el cementerio). Es el más visitado de la Ciudad, por sus numerosos e imponentes mausoleos y bóvedas, pertenecientes a muchos de los principales protagonistas de la historia Argentina, como el de Eva Perón (Evita), una de las tumbas más concurridas.

Plaza Julio Cortázar: La Plaza Cortázar se ha convertido en el corazón del distrito de Palermo Soho, donde se encuentran muchas de las tiendas de ropa y de diseño de vanguardia, así como una gran variedad de bares y restaurantes.

Barrio Chino: El Barrio Chino, ubicado en el barrio de Belgrano, se ha convertido en uno de los polos turísticos de la Ciudad por su variada oferta de comercios y restaurantes de origen oriental.

The second annual Ethnografilm Festival

8-12 April 2015, in Paris, France

Ethnografilm will highlight the academic and documentary films that best contribute to the systematic understanding of our social world through film. A global initiative sponsored by the Society for Social Studies of Science and the International Social Science Council, this film festival meets the growing need for non-fiction filmmakers to present peer-reviewed audiovisual work in an international forum.

Ethnografilm solicits submissions in four categories: academic, academic short, documentary, & documentary short (shorts defined as less than 10 minutes). Academic films are generally those in which a scholar has a principal role such as editor, director, or producer. Please contact the festival manager if there are questions. Ethnografilm makes no distinction by career stage and particularly solicits films by students.
